If you enjoy some diversity on your screen, then, I'd certainly say purchase this pack. The Norse models are really cool, and, compliment the Finn, Rus, and Holy Order appearance packs quite well.. Everyone has an awesome story about Crusader Kings they like to tell to get new players into the game. For me it's the time I zoomed into a really close battle and noticed that my guy was represented by the Norse Unit DLC.. This was honestly a waste of money. The different looking units are nice, but why wouldn't they be in the base game?

Absolutely would not recommend buying this or any other unit pack.. I'm recommending this because Odin himself told me to.. A nice add-on for flavor.. Paradox DLC "loves them and leaves them". The only reason I won't downvote this is because they are Vikings and therefore might kill me.. In my humble Opinion these portrait packs are worth the money for a few reasons based on my experience:

- 1) I like to play as Pagan or Muslim and have 4 wives, I then go and get a wife from each corner of the globe through raiding, is possible all 4 princess.
- 2) There are modes that require these files for top grade 10/10 wives to pillage from all corners of the world.
- 3) the system I use to rate is $1 = 1 hour.
- 4) Indie companies don't make as much as AAA developers and if I can spend $1 to get future content for a game I love I will support it.. Not working. Did briefly in the past. Seems to have broken with the Charlemagne patch.. The one Unit Pack for CKII that is absolutley necessary. I mean just look at those bearded beauties and tell me they don't make you want to go pillage the shores of England, burn down all the monastaries, and carry off the women and children.

The first and last time I purchased a Paradox graphics pack... The disappointment was palpable. There isn't even a different male/female councillor model.

This amounts to $0.18 a model for character models that are halfway between PS2 and N64 graphics. I would have forgotten which ones were enabled were it not for remembering the disappointment. Even on sale, the graphics DLC are simply not justifiable. The whole bundle of every unit pack ever released isn't worth the $0.50 sale price.. Pillaging and looting in style!. Makes them look like proper Vikings now. But only buy when it's on sale
